

Journeys
are navigated not by waves but by

STARS

It's tempting to measure your success as a Christian by the sins you avoid, your good deeds, or what your friends are doing. This method quickly drifts into wave after wave of comparison or even legalism. But there is a healthy way to check the progress of your spiritual journey. This new Bible study discusses six biblical traits that are commonly seen in the lives of growing disciples. As you follow these markers like navigational stars, your faith can advance in the way God intended.

JOIN US:

Lifeway

lifeway.com/marksofadisciple