

You're being tempted and
you may not even know it.

At the sound of the word “temptation,” we typically jump to the capital-letter temptations that take the form of various addictions. But there are more subtle versions in the lies of success, false identity, and religiosity. The tendency is to trivialize or dismiss these, but their presence may be even more controlling—and more constant—than the usual suspects. Truth and Lies will help group members understand how God uses temptation to reveal and bring character out of them. Discover how the enemy works, how to identify the Accuser’s schemes, and what Jesus teaches us through His temptations. (6 sessions)
